

August 2008

We have an updated website....

The UK Seahawks website has been updated.

Thanks go to Chip for all his hard work.

Please check it out: www.seahawkers.org.uk

We would like more photos on the member's page, so please send us a photo along with your name and forum name (if you have one) to: chip1@tiscali.co.uk

Fantasy NFL

We have 2 leagues going for NFL Fantasy Football, at the time of writing this, the first league was full, but there were still places in the second one at the time of typing this. Use the link below to join

<http://www.seahawkers.org.uk/phpbb2/viewtopic.php?t=5337>

Hawksnest Bar and Grill

Hi everybody!

Just wanted to stop by and say thanks for your enthusiasm and support for The Hawks Nest! 😊 I can't wait to be the official Seattle branch office for the UK Seahawks.

I'll drop back by with updates from time to time as we build the new bar and try to get the doors open in early August. There is so much work to do that my head is spinning but it's very exciting.

Thanks again for your support and I can't wait to see you all walk through the door of The Hawks Nest!

HawkHeart (Rachel)

There is a new Bar in Seattle opened 12th August totally devoted to Seahawk fans. It is the Hawksnest Bar and Grill, run by Rachel who posted the above message on our forum. If you are in Seattle, please pop in. Address: 1028 1st Avenue S

Forum

Another plug for the forum – just in case you didn't know it was there. Always good to keep in touch, with what is happening along with news/opinions of other members and fans.

<http://www.seahawkers.org.uk/phpbb2/>

BBQ

Sadly the BBQ didn't happen in August as we were double booked at our venue. Apologies to anyone who this affected (I know of one member who had already bought his train ticket).

September – Yippee

We are in August which means only one thing in my book (no, not dodgy weather), but September is the next month and it's NFL season again. I can't wait. Pre-season games have already started.

Competiton Time

Our competition last year went well. I asked you to guess how many Touchdowns the Seahawks would score and the winner was Chris from London, who won a selction of shirts. I am going to run a similar competition this year. I will be e-mailing all members direct. Watch this space.

And finally....

I hope you are all keeping well.

Here's to a great season for the Seahawks – ending in Tampa, Florida in February 2009.

Love Pops

Go Seahawks !!

