

November 2008

Booster Club T-Shirt

Last month I gave you the chance to purchase a Booster Club T-Shirt, which a fair number of you took up. I'm writing here to THANK Andy (Brithawk) for all the leg work, from collecting them when he was last in Seattle to bringing them back to the UK and posting them to us all.

Competition Time

Update:

The question was: How many sacks will Seattle achieve in the regular season?

We have had a wide range of answers from the conservative lowest guess of 26, to the highest hopeful guess of 81.

Tally so far:	Vs Bills	1 Sack
	Vs 49ers	8 Sacks
	Vs Rams	1 Sack
	Vs Giants	1 Sack
	Vs Packers	3 Sacks
	Vs Buccaneers	1 Sack
	Vs 49ers	4 Sacks	total so far: 19

I will regularly keep you updated during the season.

Wembley...

This for me was a much better experience this year. Firstly, the weather was kinder although it was a cold October day but the rain held off for the match and the pitch held up. There seemed to be a better atmosphere, maybe because of the two teams playing. In the first 10 minutes we saw more action than the whole game last year.

I started cheering for the Saints, purely because I am not a fan of Philip Rivers but by the end of the match, if the Chargers had caught that last 'Hail Mary' throw, then I would have been cheering with the rest of the crowd. For those of you who left early (why do people do that?), you nearly missed the best ending of a game that I have seen. Not sure what the Saints were thinking of by giving away the safety, but then live sport always brings up surprises.

Many of you met at the Green Man pub before the match, and I nicked this photo of our forum. It is always good to get together with other Seahawk Fans.

Seahawk fans were few and far between at Wembley, but I made a point of saying hello to all fellow Seahawks that I saw. Irony was that the first two I met at the tube station, only lived about 15 miles from where I do.

Website

Thanks go to Mark for updating the forum on our website. Some of you may have noticed that we have been having ongoing problems with the stability of the forum; however, these should have been resolved following the move over to a more current version. It's still being designed and tweaked, and comments already left on the forum will be taken into account. We are happy for constructive criticism. We want it to be right for you.

www.seahawkers.org.uk/phpbb2/viewforum.php?f=5

Meets for the Dallas Game

Thursday November 27th 9.15pm (Kick-off)

I have looked on the forum and there are a few threads for meets for the Seahawk game against Dallas. If you are interested in any of them, use the link below to check the latest news about where and if they are still going on.

Leeds

Sports Café in Leeds

www.seahawkers.org.uk/phpbb2/viewtopic.php?f=4&t=5602

London/South East

Willoughby Arms Public House, Kingston

www.seahawkers.org.uk/phpbb2/viewtopic.php?f=4&t=5649

Scotland

www.seahawkers.org.uk/phpbb2/viewtopic.php?f=4&t=5635

Love Pops

Go Seahawks !!

